FOREWORD

Welcome to our 21st sale. As ever, we have a good selection of different items on offer, commencing with some very desirable Greek and Roman coins, mostly from one collection, which includes a rare Syracuse tetradrachm, and a good group of Roman gold including a newly discovered rare Vespasian aureus in choice condition. The ancient British section includes the scarce gold stater listed as Spink no. 2. The large selection of hammered gold and silver includes some rare Elizabeth I pieces, a choice Charles II double crown, ex Samuel King, and the excessively rare 1656 double crown believed to be the only piece in private hands, as well as a choice halfcrown of Edward VI and the rare first issue of James I. There are also some rare gold pieces in the Scottish section.

Highlights in the milled section include attractive five and two guinea pieces of Charles II, the very rare 1820 two pounds of George III, not one but three 1826 five pound pieces and a Una and the Lion five pounds. As usual there is a sizeable selection of sovereigns which includes some great rarities including a 1916 Canada sovereign in practically uncirculated condition, the first specimen to be offered in the UK for some time, as well as the rare 1922 and 1923 Sydney mint pieces. In addition there is the very rare 1831 with no stops in the WW and a most unusual George III sovereign with an interesting die flaw.

There is a good selection of foreign coins and banknotes and of particular note among the Australian pieces on offer are an Adelaide pound, choice examples of the 1855 and 1856 sovereigns, the first in such a high grade that have been offered for sale for many years in this country, and a choice 1856 half sovereign. A number of interesting medallions are listed under the countries in which they were issued.

If you are unable to attend the sale, you can bid free of charge through www.the-saleroom.com and the catalogue can be viewed online at www.sixbid.com

Credit for putting this catalogue together goes to Lisa Norfolk, Tim Wilkes and Joel Elias, with special thanks to Bruce Lorich for his supplementary cataloguing. Production was by Seth Freeman and Graham Byfield of Baldwin's.

Extremely rare with a Spanish rather than a Spanish American undertype. In his article 'Bank of England Dollar Varieties - Part II' (Spink Numismatic Circular, December 1999), Michael Dickinson says of the 1804 dollars: 'I have yet to come across an identifiable undertype that had not been struck at one of the Spanish American mints'. In a December 2003 update to this article he records one example (see footnote to lot 286); the present coin and lot 286 are believed to be the second and third recorded examples.

276 George III, Bank of England, dollar, 1804, type A/2, laur. and dr. bust r., rev. Britannia seated l. within oval band (S.3768; ESC.144; L&S 53), overstruck on a Lima 8 reales of Ferdinand VII dated 1810, about extremely fine £300-400

286 George III, Bank of England, dollar, 1804, type C/2b, laur. and dr. bust r., rev. Britannia seated l. within oval band (S.3768; ESC.156; L&S 66), overstruck on a Seville(?) 8 reales of Charles III dated 1779, some tooling on obverse, otherwise about extremely fine, extremely rare £800-1000

The mint mark of the undertype is not visible; 8 reales of this type were only struck in Madrid and Seville, and no examples of this date are known from Madrid, so the present coin is almost certainly from Seville. In his article 'Bank of England Dollar Varieties: an Update' (Spink Numismatic Circular, December 2003), Michael Dickinson records an 1804 dollar of type ESC.148 overstruck on a 1779 Seville 8 reales. See footnote to lot 275.

Gold was discovered in Victoria in 1850, but while gold fever soon struck the entire nation the Gold Rush itself caused enormous social strain. Those who had the fever left their jobs and homes, and their exodus created an unexpected strain in the newly populated territories, lack of employees for many businesses, and a sudden draining of currency from banks all over South Australia. By the following year, 1851, newly rich prospectors found themselves in possession of gold nuggets and dust which were difficult to spend. There was almost no hard cash anywhere, and so no economic stimulation was possible despite all this gold fever and new wealth. Something had to be done quickly. A bullion act was passed by the South Australian Legislative Council early in 1852 and signed into law by Lt-Gov Sir H.E. Young. Technically, the law had no power until approved by the governing authority in England, and this was applied for, but the situation could not tolerate delay. A temporary mint called the Government Assay Office was set up without delay in order to coin what were termed 'ingots' bearing designations of weight and fineness as well as the name of the issuing authority. By late August 1852, more than a million pounds' worth of native gold had been logged in for assay by the Office. Dies for the unofficial but badly needed 'coins' were prepared. The now-famous 1852 Adelaide Pound was born. The reverse die almost immediately failed; a replacement was created with a design that varied slightly from the original. But the issue was interrupted soon thereafter by word received from England that the Assay Office was not a legal entity – the Crown refused the request to coin money in Australia. The bullion act had in fact been intended as only a stop-gap solution to the shortage of money, but the legislative council had not foreseen that its actions would be quite so short lived. As a result, the official mintage record stated that only 24,768 gold pounds were created before the experiment ended. And yet the troubles facing the first gold coins made in Australia were far from over. The coins were of high purity (22 carats, or nearly 92% pure gold), as it was intended that they should readily pass at the same value as the well-known gold sovereign. But, again, the best of intentions were curtailed: the coins quickly became subjected to speculation by profiteers, and a great many were bought in Victoria at face value and shipped to England to be melted, for a profit of nearly two shillings a coin. Nearly the entire mintage was soon melted, and it is believed that only approximately 250 pieces in all have survived, most bearing the design of the revised reverse die. These are what remain of the first Australian coins made of native gold ore.

CONDITIONS OF SALE

(1) St. James's Auctions [the Company] is a division of Knightsbridge Coins. These sales at public auction are undertaken as agent only, acting on behalf of the seller. The contract of sale for any lot will be between the seller and the buyer.

(2) The buyer of any lot will be the highest bidder. In the event of any dispute, the auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to settle the dispute as he thinks best; this may mean re-offering the lot for sale.

(3) The auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to divide any lot, combine two or more lots or withdraw any lot or lots without giving any reason. In the case of a dispute, he may re-offer a lot for sale. The auctioneer also has the right to refuse any bid or bids without giving a reason.

(4) The Company and auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to refuse admission to their premises or attendance at their auction of any person they deem unsuitable, without giving any reason for, or prior notice of, their action.

(5) The minimum increment between bids will normally be 5%. The auctioneer has the right to refuse any bid which is not in line with this increase. He also has absolute discretion to vary this increment as he sees fit.

(6) All lots are subject to a Buyer's Premium of 24.00%, inclusive of VAT, (20% + VAT), payable by all buyers.
In the case of a lot marked with a dagger (†), import VAT at 5% will be added to the hammer price and will be payable by the buyer if resident in the UK. If the lot is being exported outside the EU, this import VAT can be waived or refunded on proof of export.

(7) Each bidder shall be deemed to act as principal unless the Company acknowledges in writing prior to the auction that he acts as agent for a named third-party principal. For bidders unable to attend the auction in person, commissions will be executed free-of-charge. Such bids must be written and must be received at least 24 hours before the sale begins. The Company cannot guarantee to execute bids received less than 24 hours before the sale. 'Buy' bids will not be accepted. The Company shall not be liable for any errors or omissions in executing such commissions.

(8) All buyers must, if requested, notify their name and address to the auctioneer and, if required, provide additional proof of identification, bank references or other credit references. All buyers must pay the full purchase price, at the point of collection of purchases, or a fractional deposit as may be determined at the auctioneer's discretion, unless the Company has previously arranged credit terms. Seven working days must be allowed for clearance of personal cheques before delivery can be made unless a prior agreement has been reached. A 2% surcharge will be applied to all credit card payments.

(9) Ownership of lots does not pass to the buyer until the Company has received payment in full.

(10) All lots, however, are held to be at the buyer's risk from the fall of the hammer. All lots shall be removed by the buyer within seven working days after the date of the sale. Any lots not so removed may become liable to removal, insurance and storage charges. Such lots may, at the auctioneer's discretion, be re-offered for sale at auction or by private treaty without further notice to the buyer.

(11) All lots are offered for sale subject to any reserve price that may be imposed by the seller. The seller may not subsequently change the reserve without the agreement of the Company. Where a reserve has been set, only the auctioneer may bid on behalf of the seller. Lots are normally reserved at 80% of lower estimate, with auctioneer's discretion. Unless re-offered for sale, the collection of unsold lots shall be the responsibility of the vendor.

(12) (a) Lots are sold as shown with all faults, imperfections and errors of description and lack of authenticity. Neither St James's Auctions nor the vendor shall give any warranty to any buyer in respect of any lot or be liable for any fault or error of description or lack of genuineness or authenticity of any lot. All statements as to items sold, whether made in catalogues, during the course of the auction or otherwise, are statements of opinion only and are not and shall not be taken to be statements or representations of fact. St James's Auctions reserve the right in forming their opinion to consult and rely upon any expert or authority considered by them to be reliable.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any lot, other than a miscellaneous item not individually described in the catalogue, should be proved by the buyer to be not genuine or authentic, or to have been wrongly described in any material respect, the buyer may reject the same provided that he shall have given notice of his intention so to do and shall have returned the same to St James's Auctions within one month from, and in the same condition as at, the date of sale. The onus of proving a lot to be not genuine or authentic or to have been so wrongly described shall lie with the buyer. Proof of the inability of any recognised expert or authority to express a definite opinion shall not discharge such onus. If the buyer shall discharge such onus, the auctioneers shall rescind the sale and repay to the buyer the price paid by him. Save as provided herein, St James's Auctions shall not under any circumstances whatsoever be liable for any costs, expenses or damages (whether direct, indirect, special or consequential) incurred by the buyer in respect of any lot, whether or not as a result of any fault, imperfection, error or description or lack of genuineness or authenticity, including but not limited to loss of any kind of profit whatsoever.

(13) Save as provided in the preceding paragraph of these conditions buyers must satisfy themselves as to the accuracy of their purchases at the time of delivery. St James's Auctions cannot be held responsible for any discrepancy which might be discovered after the lots have been removed from either the auction room or the auctioneers' premises.

(14) As stated in paragraph (1), the Company acts solely as agent between buyer and seller and shall not be held responsible for any default by either party or for any action or claim that may arise in connection with any lot.

(15) Any part of the purchase price still outstanding after the auction, in line with the terms of paragraph (8), shall be paid in full within thirty days of the date of the auction. Without prejudice to any other rights, the Company reserves the right to charge interest on any overdue payment at a rate of three per cent per month. In the event that the company shall have paid the vendor (normally 35 days after the sale) and part of the purchase price is still outstanding, title to the lot will pass to the Company. The Company shall then have the right to sell any other goods belonging to the buyer and held by the Company for whatever reason at such a price that the company, in its absolute discretion, thinks fit. The buyer shall also reimburse the Company for any additional costs incurred in this process.

(16) Buyers accepting commissions from third parties do so at their own risk. They remain responsible to the Company for full settlement according to these conditions

(17) By making a bid, the buyer acknowledges his acceptance of these conditions and agrees to be bound by them.

(18) If any buyer fails to comply with any of these Conditions, the lot or lots in respect of which the failure is made may at the discretion of St James's Auctions be put up again and resold. The damages recoverable from the defaulting buyer shall include, but not be limited to, the auctioneers' expenses and commission in respect of the resale and the amount (if any) by which the price obtained on the resale is exceeded by that obtained on the first sale.

(19) A variation of these Conditions shall only be binding on St James's Auctions and the vendor if it is made in writing and signed by a duly authorised representative of St James's Auctions.

(20) These Conditions shall take effect and be construed in accordance with the provisions of English law.
